Savage Services' Cohn assumes TSI's chair

WASHINGTON DC, October 4, 2017 – The Sulphur Institute (TSI) announced today that Jack Cohn, Senior Vice President & Industry Unit Leader at Savage Services Corporation has assumed responsibilities as Chairman of the Board. Cohn's appointment comes amid a new assignment for Mike Lumley, former Vice President of Shell Sulphur Solutions. Rob McBride, President and CEO of The Sulphur Institute praised Lumley for his tenure as TSI Chairman and Vice Chairman. "We appreciate Mike's leadership and direction he provided the Institute while serving as Vice Chairman and Chairman over the last 18 months. We welcome Jack who is no stranger to TSI; the staff looks forward to working with him as Chairman of the Board."

Cohn previously served as TSI's Chairman of the Board from 2012 to 2013. "It is an honor to once again serve the sulphur industry as TSI's Chairman," said Cohn. Cohn will continue to spearhead many initiatives already underway at TSI including plans to demonstrate its value to members in not only North America, but also further developing its interests for European members and expanding into Central Asia, the Middle East and North Africa.

Founded in 1960, TSI represents all stakeholders actively engaged in producing, buying, selling, handling, transporting, or adding value to sulphur and sulphuric acid.
