

Craig Jorgenson
The Sulphur Institute

Mr. Jorgenson is a member of TSI's senior staff, serving as vice president of transportation and regulatory affairs and serves as Secretary of the Board. Mr. Jorgenson joined TSI after a 25-year career in transportation and logistics with the US military. Jorgenson represents TSI's members on the Association of American Railroad Tank Car Committee, the Hydrogen Sulfide Coalition and other industry related committees within the National Fire Protection Association and the American National Standards Institute. Jorgenson holds degrees from the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse, Indiana University and the National Defense University.