Nutrien's Simpson Assumes TSI's Chair; Bryant Begins Term as TSI's President and CEO

WASHINGTON DC, May 6, 2019 – The Sulphur Institute (TSI) announced today that Tom Simpson, Director, Sulfur Purchasing at Nutrien Ltd. has assumed responsibilities as Chairman of the Board and John Bryant has assumed the role of President and CEO following the retirement of Robert McBride. Both appointments come following TSI's Annual General Meeting held on April 15, 2019.

Simpson said, "It is an honor to be named TSI's Chair. I look forward to working with the Institute and its members to advocate on behalf of the sulphur and sulphuric acid industries. I would like to thank Rob McBride for his five plus years of dedicated service as the President and CEO of The Sulphur Institute. Rob came to us at a critical time and he has put the Institute in a great place for future growth and expansion of services. I would also like to welcome John to the TSI Management Team. He is a veteran in the industry, and I look forward to partnering with him on future endeavors."

Founded in 1960, TSI represents all stakeholders actively engaged in producing, buying, selling, handling, transporting, or adding value to sulphur and sulphuric acid.
