GATX Joins TSI, Cites Sulphur Transportation Expertise

WASHINGTON, DC, December 16, 2011 – The Sulphur Institute recently welcomed GATX Corporation as a new member to its organization. Catherine Randazzo, TSI president and CEO, remarked, “The addition of GATX further demonstrates how TSI serves the entire sulphur industry. In addition to our producer, consumer, trade and service member companies, we have another company in the transportation industry recognizing the value TSI provides its members.” GATX Corporation is a leader in railcar leasing in both North America and Europe. It is one of the largest railcar and locomotive lessors in North America and one of the largest tank car lessors in Europe. GATX is one of several companies leasing rail tank cars to shippers of molten sulphur in North America.

“GATX has already shown interest in becoming an active participant in TSI’s program working groups. By getting involved, GATX will help identify priorities for the industry and address them, whether relating to transportation or environment, health, and safety,” stated Mark Whittemore, executive vice president of Oxbow Sulphur and TSI chair. “We look forward to welcoming additional members to this valuable global organization as we speak for all involved in the business of sulphur,” he added.

Founded in 1960, TSI represents all stakeholders actively engaged in producing, buying, selling, handling, transporting, or adding value to sulphur on a global basis.
