Con-Sul, Inc. Joins The Sulphur Institute – TSI’s first member offering consultancy services –

WASHINGTON, DC, June 25, 2009 — The Sulphur Institute (TSI) welcomes Con-Sul, Inc., a provider of consulting services for the sulphur industry, as a new member. Founded in 1987, Con-Sul’s services encompass business development, project evaluation/management, supply/marketing and logistics/storage recommendations, as well as sulphur forming and agronomic applications.

“We welcome Con-Sul to TSI. Con-Sul represents our first member company offering consultancy services to the sulphur industry”, remarked Catherine Randazzo, TSI’s president and CEO. “The Institute has been focusing on expansion to include all stakeholders within the sulphur industry and encourage other companies in the value chain to join a diverse association, with multiple benefits,” she added.

Jerry d’Aquin, president, Con-Sul, Inc. stated, “TSI’s programs are devoted to the whole industry and we see a benefit in joining and being an active participant. We like that TSI is looking at items of interest not only in North America, but in the entire global arena.”

In addition to consultancy services, Con-Sul, Inc. offers the North American Quarterly Sulfur Review, and contributes to FINDS, preparing the sulphur section, and the Reigel Handbook of Industrial Chemistry and Biotechnology (10th & 11th Eds.) For additional information contact, Gerard d’Aquin, president, Con-Sul, Inc.: email; consulinc@aol.com, telephone: +1 406 837 2005.

Founded in 1960, TSI is committed to representing all stakeholders actively engaged in producing, buying, selling, handling, transporting, or adding value to sulphur. Member companies are based in Asia, Europe, the Middle East and North America.
