TSI Welcomes Sarah Amirie as Director of Operations

WASHINGTON, DC, January 15, 2018 – The Sulphur Institute (TSI) announced the selection of Ms. Sarah Amirie as the Director of Operations. In this role, Ms. Amirie will oversee member relations, third party vendor services, and office management. Robert McBride, TSI president and CEO, remarked, “We look forward to having Sarah’s experience which will enhance TSI programs and operations.” Ms. Amirie has worked as an executive assistant, treasury analyst, and software development technician throughout several departments in the federal government prior to joining TSI. She has a bachelor’s degree from Marymount University and a Certificate in Computer Software Engineering from George Washington University.

Founded in 1960, TSI represents all stakeholders actively engaged in producing, buying, selling, handling, transporting, or adding value to sulphur on a global basis. For more information about TSI membership, programs and contributions to the industry, contact Donald Messick, The Sulphur Institute, 1020 19th Street NW, Suite 520, Washington, DC 20036, USA.
