TSI Welcomes Santini as Manager, Meetings, Member Relations and Office Services

WASHINGTON, DC, March 22, 2012 – The Sulphur Institute announces that Stephanie A. Santini has joined TSI as manager, meetings, member relations and office services. Catherine Randazzo, TSI president and CEO, remarked, “Stephanie has a broad range of talents she brings to TSI. And we are benefitting already as she jumps right-in doing her part to make TSI’s Sulphur World Symposium 2012 a big success.”

Ms. Santini has 10 years of experience in event management and member relations working with Wills Eye Institute in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, LPL Financial in San Diego, California and as the director of events for a Brazilian catering company. She earned a bachelor of arts in political science from the University of Miami. Ms. Santini is fluent in English and Italian.

Founded in 1960, TSI represents all stakeholders actively engaged in producing, buying, selling, handling, transporting, or adding value to sulphur on a global basis. TSI hosts its annual Sulphur World Symposium for all members of the sulphur value chain. This year industry experts will meet in Antwerp, Belgium, April 23-25, 2012.
