TSI's Board of Directors Elects Lumley with Shell Sulphur Solutions as Chair

DUBLIN, April 24, 2017 – The Sulphur Institute (TSI) announced today that Mike Lumley, General Manager, Sulphur and Ventures for Shell Sulphur Solutions has been elected Chairman of the Board. During the meeting of the Institute's Board of Directors in Dublin, Ireland, Jack Cohn, Savage Sulphur Services was also named as Vice Chair.

"We seek to be a unified voice for the sulphur and sulphuric acid industry for all aspects of the businesses impacting our license to operate," remarked Lumley. The Sulphur Institute is dedicated to its more than 60 members with programs specific to Transportation Regulations, Environment Health and Safety, Information and Advocacy and one committed solely to Sulphuric Acid. Under Lumley's leadership the group plans to demonstrate its value to members, not only in North America, but further developing its interests for its European members and expanding into Central Asia, the Middle East and North Africa.

Founded in 1960, TSI represents all stakeholders actively engaged in producing, buying, selling, handling, transporting, or adding value to sulphur.
